Re: CSC Elimination of Librarians & CEGEP

Dear Minister,

We write in a spirit not only of concern, but of profound moral alarm.

The decision by Correctional Service Canada (CSC) to eliminate all librarian positions in federal penitentiaries across Canada — coupled with its intention to end funding for the CEGEP education program serving incarcerated people in Quebec’s federal institutions — represents a sweeping and regressive dismantling of rehabilitative infrastructure within our prison system.

Taken together, these actions signal a stark retreat from education, literacy, and meaningful rehabilitation. They undermine decades of progress and contradict both Canada’s domestic law and its international human rights commitments.

Let us be unequivocal: a prison library without a librarian is not a library.

CSC librarians are not incidental staff. They are trained educators and information specialists who curate collections, protect equitable access, support legal research and literacy, deliver programming, and ensure that the most marginalized individuals in our custody can exercise their rights and pursue personal growth. There are at least 31 CSC librarians employed across 38 unique federal prison libraries who hold vital institutional knowledge — knowledge of security protocols, inmate learning needs, culturally appropriate collections, and trauma-informed service — that cannot simply be “absorbed” or replaced without consequence.

To remove every librarian in the federal system, without presenting a transparent, adequately funded, and professionally viable alternative, is not administrative streamlining. It is the hollowing out of a core rehabilitative service.

The simultaneous termination of the CEGEP program in Quebec federal institutions compounds this harm. Postsecondary education in custody is one of the most evidence-based pathways to reducing recidivism, strengthening employability, and supporting safe reintegration. Eliminating it will not make communities safer. It will do the opposite.

CSC's own mandate under the Corrections and Conditional Release Act is to contribute to public safety by assisting offenders in becoming law-abiding citizens. Access to education, information, and literacy is not peripheral to that mandate — it is central.

Furthermore, Rule 64 of the United Nations Nelson Mandela Rules (United Nations Standard Minimum Rules for the Treatment of Prisoners) is explicit:

“Every prison shall have a library for the use of all categories of prisoners, adequately stocked with both recreational and instructional books, and prisoners shall be encouraged to make full use of it.”

Adequately stocked. Encouraged to make full use of it. These are not symbolic commitments. They require professional oversight and sustained investment.

We are told these cuts are about fiscal restraint. Yet librarians are among the lowest-paid professionals in the federal system. The savings will be marginal. The damage — to rehabilitation, to institutional stability, to legal literacy, to mental health, and ultimately to public safety — will be profound.

This is not merely a budgetary adjustment. It is a policy choice that disproportionately harms those already marginalized and contradicts Canada's stated commitment to evidence-based corrections and human rights leadership.

Without a credible and publicly articulated plan to preserve equitable access to professionally administered library and educational services, these decisions risk being inconsistent with the Corrections and Conditional Release Act, vulnerable to scrutiny under the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms, and misaligned with Canada's international obligations.

We recognize that fiscal restraint is a reality across government, and we do not suggest that Correctional Service Canada should be exempt from responsible budget reductions. However, decisions of this magnitude — affecting core rehabilitative services — must be shaped by meaningful consultation with those who understand institutional operations best. We strongly urge you to direct the Commissioner to immediately undertake a genuine and substantive consultation with frontline professionals in Education, Social Programs, and Security across the country over the next two months to identify alternative, responsible savings that meet budgetary mandates without dismantling foundational rehabilitative services.

We therefore call on you, as Minister of Public Safety, to:

- Immediately suspend the elimination of all librarian positions in federal institutions;
- Reverse the termination of the CEGEP education program in Quebec federal prisons; and
- Publicly clarify how CSC intends to uphold its statutory and human rights obligations with respect to access to education and information by May 1, 2026.

Public safety is not strengthened by shrinking the pathways to literacy, learning, and lawful reintegration. It is strengthened by investing in them.

We urge you to act swiftly to correct this course.

Respectfully,
